

ANNUAL REPORT 2020

FROM THE CEO'S DESK

I am delighted to present Patang's Annual Report-2020. The year gone by was fascinating for Patang with lots of opportunities to learn and contribute. Last year we revisited our mandate - building youth leadership and bringing transformational change and aligned our programs in order to fulfill this mandate.

We have been able to expand our footprints to different thematic areas such as education, livelihood, gender and sexuality. We have expanded our initiatives to reach new geographies - Cuttack and Khordha districts of Odisha, Durg district of Chhattisgarh and Dhanbad district of Jharkhand. The highlight of the year was building partnerships with the Department of Education, Government of Odisha and working on STEM for Girls programme through secondary schools, and reach out to thousands of girls.

We have expanded our youth and livelihood work keeping in mind the youth development approach. The focus is on sustainable livelihood creation through ecological farming, asset creation, and accessibility to land and water by the community. We partnered with UNICEF on creating water ambassadors and ran a campaign across the state of Odisha. Young volunteers have been sensitized on the environment, water, and ecology through partnerships with civil society organizations, colleges, and institutions.

We have partnered with Childline India Foundation to run Childline-1098 (helpline number) in Bargarh district to ensure emergency support to children who need care and protection.

It would have never have been possible to achieve whatever little we could without support from all the stakeholders. We wish to thank all our volunteers, partners, well-wishers and individual donors who stood by us during this journey.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank Patang Trustees for the confidence they have bestowed on the young team. Last but not the least, I wish to thank my colleagues for chipping in wholeheartedly at every step. In the coming years, we will strive to further our reach and impact and take our work forward in building youth leadership.

I look forward to your continued support in the coming years as well.

Thanks

Sachidananda Mishra

Introducing Patang

Patang is a registered youth-led non-profit based in Sambalpur district in the Indian state of Odisha with a vision of a society where youth take initiative for positive social change. Since its inception in 2003, Patang's focus has been to nurture the youth potential in creating equity and justice in society. Keeping this in mind, we are building capacities of young people through innovative direct and indirect programmes by setting up Patang as a Regional Youth Support Centre in the eastern part of India.

VISION

A society where young people take initiative for positive social change.

YOUTH DEVELOPMENT

The youth development approach perceives young people as partners in change and does not see them as mere beneficiaries of interventions.

Guided by this understanding that each youth has the potential to bring a positive change in society, Patang invests its energy and resources in nurturing their potential, broaden their understanding of issues and build their leadership skills.

In the following section, the various interventions we carried out to build youth leadership in urban and rural areas have been explained.

NURTURING YOUTH LEADERSHIP

The Pathmakers programme aims at developing leadership among young people through volunteerism. This is a year-long youth development programme meant for college going students aged between 18 and 25.

The main objective of this programme is to create an alternative and experiential learning process to expand the students' understanding of socio-economic issues and hone their skills to initiate positive actions.

The intent is to make young people experience that bringing change (irrespective of the scale) is possible. In this programme, college students are mobilized from nearby colleges and meet periodically. They volunteer their time and skills and go through a journey from "isolation to participation" by using methodologies like residential workshops, trekking, field visits and outstation exposures.

COMMUNITY VOLUNTEERS IN ACTION IN RURAL ODISHA

The Squirrel, a community-based volunteering programme provides opportunities to rural school dropouts as well as college-going youth to build their skills and initiate projects in their communities. This programme is meant for adolescents and young people, aged between 12 and 24. It equips young people with knowledge and skills, builds their leadership skills to create an enabling environment for gender equality and sexual and reproductive health and rights (SRHR) for both boys and girls. The programme has succeeded in engaging with duty bearers- Accredited Social Health Activist (ASHA) and Anganwadi workers and parents and has enhanced their participation on issues impacting young people. Young people have garnered the support of these duty-bearers during meetings, and campaigns against child marriage. They have also involved them in COVID-19 awareness drives. The youth-led initiatives have received a positive response from the community at large. The Inclusive spaces provided and sports activities conducted through the programmes enabled boys and girls to have a dialogue on sensitive issues such as menstrual health and hygiene and bodily integrity.

GENDER EQUALITY IS MY RESPONSIBILITY

Rabindra (20), lives in Batemura village with his parents and a sister. He belongs to a community where girls are treated inferior to boys. He too used to think alike and feel that girls must not go out like boys as they might face sexual harassment. The thought of creating an enabling environment for girls where they can feel safe never occurred to him. However, his thinking towards girls and women changed drastically after he joined Patang and participated in various training linked to gender and SRHR. He realized how gender-based discrimination and violence can impact the lives of adolescent girls adversely. He is now open to discussing the issues girls face with his sister and other girls of his age, which he always avoided doing earlier.

Rabindra has created a youth group named 'Jagrut Club' in his village with 30 adolescents. He is sharing his learning from Patang with the adolescents in his village. They feel free to discuss issues related to gender and other harmful norms. His efforts have enabled him in creating a healthy atmosphere in his village for boys and girls to come together.

"Before joining Patang, I was a bit apprehensive and was wondering what type of work they do. When I attended the meetings and training my doubts were cleared. Learning through games was more effective to build good relationships with my sister and other girls. I have now more respect for them," he says.

BRIDGING THE GENDER DIVIDE

Global campaign One Billion Rising (OBR) was launched to eradicate violence against women. For the last two years, Patang in partnership with Jagori Rural Charitable Trust, Himachal Pradesh has observed the OBR campaign in Odisha.

This year Patang conducted training on the objective of the campaign and built the capacity of the young college volunteers on gender equality, VAWG, and the role of youth in addressing these issues.

The volunteers put their learnings to use by organizing activities such as theatre, drawing/painting, and poster exhibitions on the theme of Love, Peace, and Harmony with young people at 05 villages and 02 slums in Sambalpur.

RIGHT TO CHOOSE - STEM FOR GIRLS

STEM for Girls is an initiative by IBM in collaboration with State Governments and Quest Alliance to impart 21st-century skills to adolescents from disadvantaged groups. The main objective is to motivate young girls to consider a career in STEM by reaching out to them through a graded curriculum in secondary schools in the country.

Patang in partnership with Quest Alliance and the Government of Odisha executing the STEM for girls programme in three districts of Odisha – Sambalpur, Khordha and Cuttack.

With a rigorous selection process, 26 STEM youth facilitators were recruited, trained and placed in 36 government-run high schools to transact the curriculum on gender, lifeskills, digital literacy, coding skills, and career development with an aim to empower girls from marginalised communities and increase their interest in STEM education / careers.

Through this programme students demonstrated life skills and digital fluency by developing creative and collaborative projects, and enhancing their career planning techniques built on their strengths, interests and abilities.

YOUTH FOR DEVELOPMENT

The Youth for Development (YfD) approach, like the Youth Development (YD) approach believes that young people have the potential to lead change processes.

However, in the YD approach, the focus is more on examining the change that took place within the young person. In the YfD approach, the emphasis is more on assessing young people's contribution to developmental outcomes.

Patang has been using this YfD approach to provide opportunities to young people to lead projects in creating sustainable communities.

YOUNG PEOPLE PROMOTING SUSTAINABLE AGRICULTURE

Youth migration is increasing by the day in the Jujomura block of Sambalpur district. Lack of livelihood opportunities was cited as a vital reason that forced people to migrate to big cities and that has contributed to their vulnerability.

The villages where the current project is being implemented are inhabited by tribal communities displaced due to Hirakud and Rengali Dam construction.

The dense forest full of natural resources surrounding the region is one of the major sources of earnings for the villagers. However, due to systemic marginalization and inadequate skills, knowledge, and exposure, the villagers have failed to assert their rights over the forest and often get exploited in the process.

In this scenario, we have intervened in Kayakud, Chhamunda and Meghpal gram panchayats with a view to promoting sustainable livelihood for the people through four main dimensions – rejuvenation of organic and ecological farming, marketing and value addition of the minor forest produces, engaging families with the MGNREGS work and building leadership among youth.

The project strategies are – to develop entrepreneurship, preservation of endangered indigenous seeds, formation of youth collectives to sustain good agricultural practices and create sustainable communities.

YOUNG WATER AMBASSADORS

Patang, Water Initiative, and UNICEF came together to contribute towards achieving SDG 5- Gender Equality, SDG 6- Clean water and sanitation, and SDG 13- Climate Change through a year-long youth-led campaign.

The campaign reached out to 10 colleges and 50 villages in Bargarh, Mayurbhanj, Nuapada, Puri, and Sambalpur. The campaign identified and capacitated 10 youth ambassadors from each college. The water ambassadors observed the water-related day through developing posters, theatre, interaction meeting with local resource persons, and together reached out to more than 1,000 young people.

YOUTH REIMAGINING SUSTAINABLE COMMUNITIES

The programme's main goal is to access community forest rights (CFR) through local youth leadership. The programme has been initiated with a tripartite partnership between Patang, Vasundhara, and the Forest Department at Naktideul and Rairakhol blocks of Sambalpur district.

We built the capacity of the youth to facilitate required processes with members from tribal communities living in the area and support them in applying for forest entitlements at the Sub-Divisional Level Committee (SDLC). The youth leaders facilitated the training with community people on the Forest Right Act (FRA) and the process of claiming Community Forest Rights.

The divisional forest office provided technical support to the youth leaders in facilitating the process in 27 panchayats of Naktideul and Rairakhol blocks.

LEARNING LEADS TO POISON FREE FOOD

I am Joseph Surin, a 35-year-old tribal belonging to the Munda tribe living in Rantal village of Sambalpur. I have a daughter and a son. I cultivate in my agricultural field. During the time of my grandmother and grandfather, we were eating food free of chemical fertiliser and pesticide. They were cultivating their land organically. They were using manure instead of pesticides and fertilisers. The rice and vegetables produced in the organic method was very tasty too.

But after the extensive use of chemical fertilisers and pesticides, the organic way of farming became a thing of the past. We lost the organic seeds. Although I was not interested in using fertiliser and pesticide in my agricultural field, I was bound to use them for the last ten years. There were no options for me because I had no organic seed; neither had I any information about where to get it.

When Patang came here to work for community people in 2015, I started participating in different meetings organised by it. Due to their support, I got a plot of forest land from the government. Then they advised me to start organic farming on the land. I participated in organic farming training organised by Patang.

After undergoing training on organic farming, I cultivated paddy using of organic seeds such as Malliphula, Dasmati and Sunaharina. I did not use any type of pesticides and fertilisers in my agricultural fields. My family was very happy about the harvest of the poison-free food and encouraged me to continue organic farming. I have dug a deep well under the MGNREGS in my land and am cultivating organic paddy and vegetables.

EDUCATION AND CHILD RIGHTS

IMPROVING LEARNING OUTCOMES THROUGH MULTILINGUAL EDUCATION

In order to improve learning outcomes, Patang has adopted the multilingual education (MLE) approach and attempted to impart mother tongue-based MLE to children in govt. run schools in partnership with the government-run schools. In this intervention, we involved elementary level children through different innovative joyful learning, participatory methodologies and child-centric approaches to improving their reading, writing, computing and comprehension skills.

The programme also focuses on giving capacity-building training to teachers and team members for developing various innovative Teaching-cum-Learning Materials (TLM) in the Sambalpuri language (mother tongue of a large number of people in Western Odisha).

MY JOURNEY

Ms. Pragati Sahu, School Teacher
Cement Nagar Nodal High School,
Bargarh, Odisha

Patang's training process on facilitation and TLM development is very meaningful, which helps in the language development of children. I have attended various meetings and trainings at Bargarh office, and seminars in Bargarh and Sambalpur where I learnt the TLM development process.

When I used TLM with children I found that the children enjoyed it immensely. Their learning ability, understanding and language development increased to a large extent. Children also learnt how to develop the TLM and design with us. I am grateful that I got an opportunity through Patang to develop my facilitation skill and teaching process. Our teaching process has also changed.

SUPPLEMENTARY EDUCATION

In the Vidya Utkarsh programme, we tried to make learning fun, enriching and inquisitive for children through innovative joyful learning methodologies, and child-centric activities. We are running a space called Children Learning Centre where students both school-going as well as dropouts participate, present their thoughts and learn through innovative ways. We have tried to teach children in a play way method by creating a student-friendly classroom environment.

The project also builds the capacity of teachers so that they can use the innovative methodologies in the schools and make them beneficial to a wide range of students. The effort is also made to sensitize the community people and link them with school education, We have interacted with and involved them in different events, workshops, training, so as to increase the leadership qualities and confidence level among the students.

REACHING CHILDREN IN NEED

CHILDLINE-1098 is a 24 hours emergency service of the Ministry of Women and Child Development Department. CHILDLINE works for the protection of rights of all children aged from 0 to 18 who need care and protection from sexual abuse, violence, homelessness, child labour, and trafficking. It provides emotional support and guidance to children and tracks missing and runaway children.

Patang as a collaborating organization with CHILDLINE runs the helpline 1098 in Bargarh district, Odisha. In partnership with Bargarh Railway Police Force, Patang conducted sensitization activities on child beggary. The Childline Dosti campaign covered 11 Govt. schools, 09 wards, and 08 villages in collaboration with Child Welfare Committee, District Child Protection Unit, and Police Department in Bargarh.

REGIONAL YOUTH SUPPORT CENTRE

Patang work as an RYSC in Eastern India to bring together and build capacities of individuals and organizations in the region, (including Odisha, and neighboring states like West Bengal, Jharkhand and Chhattisgarh) in the areas of youth development, lifeskills and volunteering. We have achieved this by sharing our skills, resources, and learnings with partner organizations.

In the following section, some of our activities under RYSC have been detailed out across different regions.

LEARNING AND SHARING

AAWAJ TEAM, BHOPAL VISITED PATANG

We facilitated three-day exposure visit of six staff from Aawaj, Bhopal from 8 April to 10 April 2019. They got first hand exposure to the process of creating and strengthening adolescent and youth spaces in the community. They also analysed the approach and process of Youth Development work and the experiential learning processes at Patang.

JAGORI TEAM, HIMACHAL PRADESH VISITED PATANG

We facilitated a five-day training cum exposure visit of seven staff members from Jagori. During the training, they experienced Patang's approach, process, tools, and methodologies of working with adolescents and young people. They interacted with Patang's youth facilitators and learned how they were demonstrating leadership in community development and addressing child and adolescents related issues. Understanding Patang's strategies to retain young people in a long-term process was the key learning for the team from their exposure visit.

LEARNING AND SHARING

TRAINED COMMUNITY LEADERS AT JAGORI, HIMACHAL PRADESH (HP)

We facilitated training with 38 adolescents community leaders (girls) at Jagori, HP from 7 June to 9 June 2019. The main objectives of the training were, a) to build a sense of self worth and group ownership, b) to make the girls realise the potential they have as young girls to foster change, c) to help the group come together as an unit and build a sense of collective identity, expose them to young adolescent girls' issues across cultures and the need to come together and d) to help them understand how they can be agents of change. We shared our monitoring and evaluation process along with the documentation techniques.

TRAINED YOUNG WOMEN AT ACTIONAID, WEST BENGAL

We facilitated the leadership workshop with 25 young urban women at Taki, West Bengal, organized by ActionAid on 9th and 10th December 2019. Most of the girls were married before legal age of marriage and had experienced pregnancy during their teenage. As they live on the street, they were vulnerable to sexual abuse. We facilitated sessions on leadership, teamwork, decision making, gender and reproductive health rights. The main objective of the workshop was to collectivise the women to take leadership for addressing the issues affecting them.
